

Many musk oxen will form a circle around their young to protect them from wolves. Ecclesiastes 4:9-10 encourages us to work together. You might enjoy making more than one.

YOU WILL NEED:

- Brown Yarn
- White (Tan) Yarn
- Double-sided Tape
- Poster Board
- Scissors
- Ruler
- Pencil
- Magnetic Sheet
- Black Marker
- 2 Googly Eyes
- School Glue
- Hot Glue Gun

DIRECTIONS:

1. From poster board, cut body (4x3"), head (1x1½"), muzzle (1x½"), horns (1x2"), and 4 legs (1½x½").

2. Cover each leg with double-sided tape and wrap with white yarn.

3. Stick double-sided tape to the surface of the head, muzzle and horns and cover or wrap with yarn.

4. Stick double-sided tape to the surface of the body and glue a strand of brown yarn around the outside edge.

5. Attach doubled strands of brown yarn to cover the entire body. Trim, leaving a ¼" fringe at the bottom.

6. Glue on three more layers of yarn, trimming each layer so it is ¼" shorter than the previous layer.

7. Glue two or three more layers to the shoulder and neck area.

8. Glue the 4 legs in place and attach magnetic sheet to the back.

9. Glue the muzzle, horns, and eyes to the head. Glue the head to the body and draw the mouth and nostrils with marker.

10. Musk oxen is now ready to put on the refrigerator.

Adult assistance is suggested.
