

Always remember that God looks at the heart, as it says in 1 Samuel 16:7.

YOU WILL NEED:

- A Framed, Magnetic Mirror
- Washable Markers (non-permanent)
- Fine Paintbrush
- Puffy Paints
- Napkin

DIRECTIONS:

1. Choose a marker and write God looks across the top of the mirror. If something doesn't work out right, the marker can easily be removed with a napkin. Be creative!

4. Still using the fine brush, apply another color of puffy paint to outline the heart and the letters: at the.

2. Using a marker of a different color, draw a heart on the mirror and write the words at the in the upper left corner of the heart.

5. Paint over the letters OO with puffy paint and add pupils and eyelashes to make them look like eyes.

3. Using the fine brush, apply puffy paint to the letters: God, I, and ks.

6. Add decorations as you like. Now the mirror is ready. You can put it on your school locker as a reminder that God is looking at your heart.
